Ankle Watch Introduced for Femininity by Movie Folks

Ankle Watch Craze

Silent film star Louise Brooks is always first class. Throughout this decade (of the 1920s) she was a model, and she appeared occasionally in fashion ads. Her sleek looks and signature bob helped define today's fashionable "the flapper look."

In addition this prominent beauty has always hobnobbed with the rich and famous. Her social circle includes such prominent figures as the composer George Gershwin and the writers F. Scott Fitzgerald, Robert Benchley, H.L. Mencken and Anita Loos. P.

Always at the pinnacle of fashion, Brooks recently began sporting an ankle watch. So if you too want to hobnob with the rich and famous, and become the epitome of femininity, then you need to purchase an ankle watch. For more information contact your local jewelry store or call 1-243-795.
